PREMISE

Self-reliance is ability to rely on one's own capabilities and to manage one's own affair. Self-reliance anywhere in the world is important as it leads to the development of the society. Unfortunately, this important ingredients is missing in the current youth.

Self-reliance reduce violence, nuisance as well other petty crimes in the society.

ISSUES

This problem of lack of reliance resulted from lack of plan for the youths by the government.

Parents failing to teach their children other skills than going to school.

Nongovernmental organisations failing to support especially in the needy in our societies.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Youth should not wait for white collar jobs.
2. People should be respected irrespective of the business they do because anything short of this will demoralise them.
3. One should hold onto what he or she is doing no matter how little until better opportunities come.
4. Government should have special package for youths in other to help them become self-reliant.
5. Parent should also endeavour to play their parents in ensuring that youths get the necessary tool that will make them independent.
